EDITORIALS.

Good morning.

Always be polite and obliging. It pays.

The hospitality that the Negroes of this city have so far shown to visiting friends is not extraordinary, it is typical. This same feeling is always prevalent here; in fact, it is a habit of our citizens to be cordial and painstaking to strangers.

In the recent August primaries in the young state of Oklahoma the unscrupulous politicians attempted, by a ruse, once again to steal the right of franchise from the Negro. But the voters of the state went down the line and defeated the bill. Much credit is due for this defeat to the Republican organs that pointed out in no uncertain terms that the bill, while appearing to disfranchise the illiterate population of the whole state, really meant only the restriction of the Negro vote, and further declared that proposed measure should be overwhelmingly defeated.

This bill, under the form of the "grandfather clause," was favorably voted upon by the people of that state some years ago, but was recently declared unconstitutional by the United States supreme court.

The death of this measure is an evidence that fair-play is taking on a vigorous life in our neighboring state, and indicates a move up front for Oklahoma.

The epidemic of infantile paralysis which is raging to such an extent that the schools of New York City are likely to be closed for the good of the public, will do and render just as much anguish to the hearts of the mothers of this city if it once gets a firm hold. The old adage of "forewarned is forearmed" should set the parents busy warding off the possibilities of this disease taking hold here by taking every sanitary precaution necessary.

A few more days from now and the kiddies will be marching off to school. The parents should not allow the glamour of the many conventions meeting here to blind them to their duty of getting the children ready for the opening day.

The children of this day and generation are the men and women of the next. A few days late in getting down to their studies often puts many boys and girls back a year or more in the time of their graduation, which might even prevent their ever getting the proper amount of schooling.

The Fifteenth annual session of the Most Worthy Grand Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Missouri Jurisdiction and the Golden Jubilee, which convened in the city this week recalls to the minds of many of our older readers the memory of many noble men of the Missouri Valley who bullded so firm a foundation that this splendid organization stands today an ineffaceable monument to the greatest fraternity on the face of the earth. It is well. To these noble sons—peace to their resting souls.

Betty & Sam's Little Corner

THEY SAY

—That a young out of town Mason went strolling with one of the Kansas City girls and during the stroll his hand touched hers and she felt a big ring on his finger. "What kind of ring is that?" she asked. "The ring of a Knight," said he. "Oh, a night owl, I guess," she said.

—That after a certain man and his wife had quarreled all night and resumed their dispute the next morning the husband sneered, "It is a good thing I ain't got no gun." "You would shoot, would you?" "Yes," he replied; "you'd go into hell on a flyin' machine this morning."

—That a young Colored fellow carried his $10 panama hat to a professional cleaner and asked the price for cleaning the same. Seeing that the hat was a nice one, the cleaner said "One dollar and fifty cents." "Umph," answered this young worthy, "and does you guarantee they don't get dirty no mo' at that price?"

—That two prominent ministers were riding in a Pullman last winter, and when they were ready to retire both reached up and clasped the little electric button and said, "Are you ready?" "Yes." So one turned off the lights and the other turned on the electric fan. By and by they called for another blanket of the porter and still later another. But it kept getting cooler and cooler. Finally they called the porter again and asked him if the steam was on and why it was so cold in their berth. "Well," said the porter, "if you turn that electric fan off, maybe it will get warm in here," and he turned it off.

—That in a nearby town lives an old lady who can always find something good in everything. A few days ago John, the town's good for nothing, died, and someone remarked to Aunt Mary, "John's dead, now, but it doesn't matter, for he wasn't any good." "Oh, yes, it does," replied Aunt Mary, "John could always whistle a mighty cherry tune."

HAPPENINGS of the week IN MISSOURI

Mrs. Anna Bittinger, widow of Maj. John L. Bittinger, for many years prominent in public life in Missouri, is dead at the home of her sister, Mrs. T. J. Chew in St. Joseph. Mrs. Bittinger was 84 years old and had lived in St. Joseph almost continuously for fifty years.

Harry McGinnis, 22 years old, of Columbus, Kan., is dead at Joplin from a broken neck. The injury was sustained when McGinnis, who was swimming in Shoal creek, dove from a tree limb into three feet of water, despite the warning of friends.

When Samuel Bryant, a negro prisoner, broke jail at Platte City, a posse went in pursuit. Bryant jumped into the Platte river to swim across and was drowned.

W. E. Larveller was killed and D. Westfield probably fatally injured when a charge of dynamite they were preparing to fire in the Yale mine near Carthage exploded prematurely.

W. S. D. Lamont, rector of the Holy Trinity Episcopal church at St. Joseph, has resigned to accept a call to St. Phillip's church, in Trenton.

"Much corn on the higher lands is past help," says the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued at Columbia. "On heavier soils and in the bottoms it is somewhat more promising and a heavy general rain will make a fair crop."

Complete returns from the First district of Missouri give Judge M. A. Romjue, candidate for congress, a lead of 473 over Senator Charles Carier of Kirksville.

The summer session of the University of Missouri has closed. The enrollment this year reached 1,314, two hundred more than that of any previous year.

The prolonged drouth which prevails over southern Missouri and northern Arkansas is resulting in unprecedented receipts of live poultry at Springfield and the five large packing concerns there are taxed to handle the shipments. Farmers are beginning to feel concern over the shortage of feed and are rushing their poultry to market while the fowls are fat.

The acreage of vacant government land in Missouri is now the smallest in the history of the state, according to a report just completed by John H. Bowen, register of the United States land office at Springfield. There are but 792 acres subject to cash or homestead entry. Ozark county leads with 211 acres and Shannon county is second with 128 acres.

The will of Colonel W. H. Phelps, filed for probate at Carthage, leaves his entire estate, which is valued at about $1,000,000, to the widow and the three children, William H. Phelps, Jr., Mrs. Florence Phelps-Roberts of Omaha, Neb., and George Emmett Phelps, the latter a child by his second wife.

A complete new code of laws for Missouri children is embodied in the preliminary report of the Missouri code commission, appointed by Governor Major in June, 1915. A final report will be submitted to the next legislature.

Oliver Holmes, 82 years old, former postmaster at Blue Springs, is dead at the home of his son-in-law, Charles Middleton of Oak Grove.

Returns received show that Representative C. W. Hamlin of the Seventh district has been nominated by the Democrats. His majority over Sam W. Major of Fayette was 128.

Sigmund Brugger, 55 years old, was killed and four others were injured, two probably fatally, when a motor car in which they were riding upset northwest of Springfield.

Blaine Vawter, 30 years old, a coal miner, was probably fatally injured in mine 66 of the Central Coal and Coke Company at Bevier. He has a wife and two small children.

Robbers broke into the postoffice at Galt recently and stole ten cents and the postmaster's watch. All other money and stamps had been put in the safe the night before.

Walter T. Shoop, 52 years old, Democratic presidential elector from the Third Congressional District, vice-president of the Missouri Retail Hardware Dealers' association and ex-mayor of Richmond, is dead at his home in Richmond.

Funeral services for Col. W. H. Phelps, who died in Rochester, Minn., were held in the Phelps home, Carthage. More than five thousand persons attended, including Lieut. Governor Painter, several state officials, senators and Democratic party leaders from all sections of Missouri. Catholic services were conducted at the home.

Ernest Sanders, 15 years old, a son of Henry Sanders, a Higginsville contractor, was drowned recently while swimming in a pond.

What Did He Expect? For nearly an hour the salesman had been dilating on the marvels of the motor car he was trying to sell. "And the price of the car is $750," the customer murmured thoughtfully. "Does that include everything?" "Yes—oh, no, of course, the lamps are extra." "Lamps extra!" said the customer sharply. "But they are shown in the illustration." "My dear sir, so is a very beautiful woman," said the salesman smoothly; "but we do not give a lady with every car!"
